PEANUT AND CORN PRICE SUPPORT SET

Price support for the 1960 crop of peanuts will average at least $201.24 per ton nationally, according to Lester Gunter, chairman of the Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. This minimum national support will not be decreased but may be adjusted upward if the existing legislation requires a higher support price, at the beginning of the marketing year, Aug. 1, 1960.

Support for the 1960 peanut crop was $193.50 per ton, reflecting 75 percent of the parity level in August 1959. The price of the 1960 corn crop will be supported at a minimum national average rate of $1.06 per bushel, Mr. Gunter said.

The national support rate on corn harvested next fall may not be lower than the announced minimum but may be increased if information at the beginning of the corn marketing year Oct. 1, 1960 indicates a higher support price.

Under the law, Mr. Gunter said, corn is supported at 80 percent of the average price of corn received by farmers during the preceding 3 years, but not less than 65 percent of parity. The announced minimum for 1960 is on the 65 percent of parity basis, since 80 percent of the 3-year average would be two cents lower at $1.04.

Funeral services were held Monday at Damascus Baptist church with the Rev. C. M. Mezek and the Rev. Charles Brewer officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

TEACHERS TO QUIT HERE IF SALARIES CUT

Students in schools of Elba and the rest of Coffee county face the prospect of a school term reduced by one month. School authorities here have been notified that lack of funds from the state will mean a curtailment of about $100,000 for Coffee county of which about half will be taken, from the Elba and Enterprise schools and the other $50,000 from other schools of the county.

Elba City School Teachers Association met Monday and voted to stop teaching if and when salaries are cut. It was considered almost a certainty that teachers in the rest of the county schools would take the same action.

The Elba P.T.A., with Mrs. Annette Ford presiding, adopted a resolution to send a telegram to Governor Patterson asking a special session of the legislature to cope with the situation.

LEGISLATIVE MEET ASKED BY ELBA P.T.A.

Mrs. Annette Ford, president of the Elba P.T.A. Tuesday evening, March 1, in the high school auditorium. The Rev. Murray L. Seay gave a timely and inspirational devotional. The possibility of a cut in teachers' salaries because of a shortage of state funds was discussed at length. The organization voted to send a telegram to the Governor urging the call of a special session of the legislature on an effort to prevent any provocation of teachers' salaries. Individual P.T.A. officers pledged to send similar telegrams.

Dean G. H. Boyd, of Troy State College, delivered an address on mental health.

The prizes for P.T.A. attendance were won by Mrs. Nellie Martin and Mrs. Althea Prescott's sons.

Bobby Inman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Inman, was elected president of the Elba High School Beta Club last week. Other officers elected were: Polly Clark, vice, president; Roger Winston, treasurer; Elba Kate Allen, secretary; and Cecelia Burkett, reporter.

Twenty-two members of the club, along with Mrs. J. W. Kendrick, club sponsor, went to Birmingham by chartered bus last weekend to attend the annual State Beta Convention. Attending were Elba Kate Allen, Cecelia Burkett, Janet Warr, Patsy Mathis, Henriette Dorsey, Yvonne Bryan, Linda Spurlin, Suzanne Hayes, Polly Clark, Mary John Smith, Martha Cooper, Eloise Lawson, Ann Waters, Margaret Kendrick, Charlotte Meek, Clio Roberts, Annie Jean Taylor, Michael Pick, Jimmy Harrison, Pete Padgett, Bobby Inman, Robert Grimes and Mrs. Kendrick.

Cotton Allotment Deadline Is Near

In the name of the state's cotton industry, Gov. John Patterson has called on Alabama farmers to plant their entire 1960 cotton allotment or release their acreage by next Tuesday, March 15th. Confidentially, We're Telling You

Hambone once said: "The money you pay for a subscription to the paper just about pays for the ink and paper it's printed on."

Yes, Hambone was right, and to carry the illustration further: the money a weekly like The Elba Clipper gets from its circulation would pay the costs of doing business one day out of each month.

A daily newspaper or magazine gets most of its income from advertising. But with a weekly in The Elba Clipper's classification, even advertising pays LITTLE MORE THAN HALF its cost of doing business, not the least of which is a list of taxes to rival Heinz' 57 varieties.

That's why a weekly operates a job shop, sells a list of office supplies, and takes orders for every kind of printing from engraved wedding announcements to automatic register forms.

Which leads to that all-important word: RECIPROCITY.

You show reciprocity for the benefits you receive from your home town newspaper when you, in turn, buy your journal and ledger sheets, file folders, typewriter paper, etc., from your newspaper.

It is reciprocity to let the newspaper handle your order for those beautiful engraved engagement or wedding announcements or invitations, particularly when their prices are in line with what you would pay if you placed your order in Birmingham, Montgomery or Atlanta.

"Learn, Live, Serve Through 4-H" is the theme of this year's observance of National 4-H Club Week. And Coffee County's 1,000 4-H club boys and girls are observing National 4-H Club Week along with more than two million other boys and girls in the Nation.

"To Make The Best Better" is the motto of all 4-H club members of America. Unlabeled Heart, Head, and Health, they work for better homes, churches, schools and communities wherever they live. Alabama has some 123,000 4-H club members. Through experience in 4-H, members carry on widely varied projects in farming, homemaking, and other activities. They raise livestock and field crops, grow gardens, sew, cook, improve their homes and improve the soil. The most significant goals are leadership training, character development and good citizenship.

Coffee county 4-H clubs are organized in 33 local clubs. A volunteer adult local leader in the school works with each club in meetings and on special activities. The most important part of 4-H club work is the individual project. The project is And Coffee county club members are required to carry at least one project to remain in good standing. Over the years, 4-H club members, and particularly boys, have had a big part in increasing corn and cotton yields in Alabama. This has been accomplished through one-acre demonstrations carried out by the boys. In fact, a more corn per acre campaign was started in 1946 with Alabama farmers and 4-H club members and other groups taking the lead. As a result of this campaign which was started about 15 years ago, per acre corn yields in Coffee county have increased by 12-15 bushels per acre. This is a tremendous increase in corn yields.

Girls have done equally significant work in learning how to freeze food, in sewing, in food preparation and many other areas.

Special activities that Coffee county 4-H club members participate in are: The Safety Essay Contest, 4-H Speaking Contests on Farmer Cooperatives, various county contests and awards program, 4-H club camp, rally, special trips for officers who have done good jobs, and trips to Auburn for leadership training.

For boys and girls to succeed as all of us would like for them to succeed, they need the backing of parents. It's hard for a boy or girl to really succeed without the cooperation and encouragement that only parents can give. Coffee county club members are fortunate in that they have dozens of businessmen and organizations who help promote 4-H Club work. With all groups working together, parents, businessmen, organizations, extension agents, and friends, Coffee county can have a top 4-H club program. And with cooperation our club members will certainly carry out their theme for 1960—Learn, Live, Serve, Through 4-H."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By T. C. Self and Billy Taylor S.C.S.

J. W. Andress, J. T. Pierce, W. J. Smith and Wallace Taylor were assisted with a basic type soil and water conservation farm plan during February.

W. J. Smith of Kinston will prepare and plant a waterway this spring. This waterway will be well established next year. A parallel terrace system will be installed on this field next spring. Waterways planted a year in advance of terracing are well established when terraces are constructed. The terraces are constructed the same spring.

Wallace Taylor, of the Taylor Mill Road, and J. T. Pierce of the Perry Store community have planned substantial areas in bahia grass. After the soil bank obligation is fulfilled this grass will be used for pasture and some will be turned for cropland. Increased yields are common where grass-rop rotations are practiced.

J. W. Andress of Brookley plans pasture improvements and erasins crops as a part of his hog program.

WHY A COMPLETE SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION FARM PLAN?

We often speak of a soil and water conservation farm plan. Many of you have not had the opportunity to learn how or why such a plan helps the farmer. The following may be of help to you.

Once I watched with great interest, the building of a business house. The owner, hoping to cut corners. The owner did not get an architect to draw up a plan. A result, there were many times when such things as doors and windows had to be relocated, new electrical outlets installed or old ones moved, some as many as four times.

A farm plan is even more important. Damage to the land can be very costly before a man catches up with the mistakes of doing the right thing at the wrong time.

A complete farm plan is the way a farmer, truly wanting to do a conservation job, will go about it.

A complete farm plan will do those things that you can't be sure of any other way.

It sets up a sequence of projects so as to get the most out of time and material.

It gives the operator a road toward which he can work knowing that when he has reached it he will have accomplished something worthy of his best as an owner of agricultural land.

It gives a farmer a chance to grasp the full meaning of soil and water conservation, to understand the reasons behind every step he takes in getting his plan done. This is apt to make him a real conservation farmer the rest of his life.

It gives him the best in efficiency and know-how with his land protected.

Farm Safety Is Essay Subject

Boys and girls in 62 Alabama counties are competing for awards in this year's 4-H Club Safety Essay Project, according to an announcement by Hattaway E. Legue, State 4-H Club Leader.

Assistant County Agent T. C. Casaday and Assistant Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Louise B. Wakefield are heading the program in Coffee county.

Sponsored by the Alabama Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association and the Auburn University Extension Service, the project is especially designed to promote interest and activity in farm and home safety.

Staff Sgt. Horace Smith, Jr., son of Mrs. J. C. Howell, Elba, has reported for duty in the 746th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at Oklahoma City Air Force Station, Oklahoma.

Sgt. Smith, who attended Elba High School, entered the Air Force in 1954 and served overseas in Japan for two years and one year in Alaska.

State Gas Tax Has Its 37th Birthday

Alabama's state gasoline tax marked its 37th birthday Tuesday, March 1. James J. Britton, director of the Alabama Petroleum Council, recalled that it was March 1, 1923, that Alabama motorists first began paying the tax, which at its original 2-cent rate yielded $1,739,000 in revenue in its first full year.

"Now Alabama highway users are paying 9¢ times as much, an estimated $19.5 million a year, under the present rate."

Alabama county seats served exclusively by truck include: Chocoma, Clarke, Clay, Coosa, Choctaw, Crenshaw, Lamar, Lawrence, Lowndes, Marion, Randolph, St. Clair, and Winston.

7 cent state tax, plus local gasoline taxes and the 4-cent federal tax," Britton said.

"With these taxes now adding 33 to 46 percent to the average price of regular gasoline in this state, motor fuel has become the most highly taxed commodity in the family budget."

"IF WE COULD BE TWICE YOUNG AND TWICE OLD WE COULD CORRECT ALL OUR MISTAKES"

Unfortunately we are all given only one life and one body to live in. All of us must avoid these mistakes which can cause irreparable harm. Modern mothers have the right idea. New babies are taken to a physician for regular examinations to prevent future troubles.

If all adults would visit their physician at least once every year for a check up, there would be fewer serious cases of diabetes, glaucoma or cancer.

From Our Early Files

21 YEARS AGO

Rev. Carl Preer, new president of the Troy District, preached at the Elba Methodist Church.

The city of Elba purchased a tract of land from Mr. Walter Lee consisting of eight to ten acres to use for a modern athletic field and playground. This announcement was made at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at Talley's Cafe.

Also at the meeting, encouraging reports were given on the Boy Scout movement in Elba by Dr. W. M. Ringsdorf, Dozier Bryan and A. C. French.

Members of the Methodist Missionary Society were hostesses to all women of the church when they entertained at a 'hen party' in the parsonage on Rushing Street.

The price of admission was a hen, and as each guest arrived, she placed her hen in a coop which was placed near the entrance. Miss Eunice Graham, recreational director, conducted a program of clever contests that kept the guests entertained throughout the afternoon.
